

Country programme Development results and resources

Data as of:
13 Apr 2026

 Budget  Expenses

Outcome	Result statement	IATI identifier	Total budget	Total expense
BDI_D_1.1	In response to the different causes of gender inequalities, targeted tools to initiate the reforms necessary for gender equality and the empowerment of women will be produced and training organized. The INSBU (National Institute of Statistics of Burundi) will be trained and will benefit from data collection tools that can inform GEWE programming. The role of women, including young women, will be strengthened through support for women's organizations active in peace and dialogue.	XM-DAC-41146-BDI_D_1.1	$0.00	$0.00

Emphasis will be placed on promoting the leadership of vulnerable women and girls (returnees, displaced persons, victims of violence, Batwa/indigenous women, albinos) and access to information, goods, the creation of initiatives income generators, the use of ICT. Women leaders will be technically and financially able to access value chains, claim their rights and participate in national and local governance structures. Advocacy will be undertaken to improve the participation of women in elections.

BDI_D_2.1	To reach this target, Actions will help women, including young women, to have the technical and financial capacity to access value chains, productive resources, technologies and innovations, the consumption of nutritious local food products and remunerative and job-creating markets. Their capacities will be strengthened in the production, processing of agri-food products, marketing and consumption of nutritious local food products. Emphasis will be placed on access to	XM-DAC-41146-BDI_D_2.1	$0.00	$0.00 information, goods, the creation of income-generating initiatives, the use of ICTs, the strengthening of multimedia centres. A guarantee fund made available will enable groups of women and girls to access credit in the financial institutions chosen.
-----------	---	------------------------	--------	--------

BDI_D_3.1	Increasing government institutions capacities in designing, implementing, monitoring, and reporting on progress in implementing SGBV prevention and response policies, strategies, and programs with a focus on strengthening institutional accountability and strengthening the service providers capacities to provide a minimum standard of essential services (medical care, legal aid, psychosocial assistance and socio-economic) to help restore the dignity of survivors. The Country Office will use the positive masculinity as a prevention approach and strengthening the community support role for VAWG survivors with a focus on changing social norms at the community	XM-DAC-41146- BDI_D_3.1	$0.00	$0.00
-----------	--	----------------------------	--------	--------

BDI_D_4.1	To address this and based on the premise that the participation and leadership of women and girls, in all their diversity, is essential to make climate, environment and disaster risk reduction a reality. UN Women will ensure that: (i) Women and girls, the main farmers, have the technical and financial capacity to participate effectively in national agricultural initiatives resilient to climate change as well as economic alternatives adapted to their needs in times of shocks. (ii) Women and girls in communities affected by natural and man-made shocks have access to livelihoods and resilience through access to dignity kits in a humanitarian context. (iii) Institutional partners, UNS entities, women's organizations and other actors have coordinated approaches and strengthened technical capacities to integrate the differentiated needs of women into their policies, programmes and strategies for preparedness and response to shocks.	XM-DAC-41146- BDI_D_4.1	$0.00	$0.00
-----------	--	----------------------------	--------	--------