STRATEGIC NOTE OUTCOME PROGRESS NOTE

SHOWING DATA OF : 2023

More productive and competitive business ecosystems designed to improve people's standards of living (MSCDF Outcome 1)

Gender Responsive Budgeting was mainstreamed by Government in 2023 for application in the 2024 budget with "all line ministries providing expenditure estimates that adequately reflect gender priorities and considerations." This exceeded the target from four (4) Ministries to all twenty-eight (28) ministries and departments of Government, and promises to be the most systematic way to sustain the results and take further action on GEWE and EVAWG. During the first quarter of 2023, the Government issued a Gender Budget Statement identifying priorities for gender mainstreaming and budgeting across several Ministries. In August, the Ministry of Finance set out the Budget Framework Paper 2024 which stated that: "The Government is keenly aware that the implementation of projects, programmes, and policies that are financed by public expenditure has differential impacts on women and men. As such, the Budget will be prepared taking into consideration gender issues and priorities in various sectors and factoring in relevant cost implications in the Budget estimates." In the guidance issued regarding the preparation of the budget, the Ministry of Finance instructed all Ministries and Departments to "include gender-related statements in their strategic objectives and performance measures". This milestone follows a pilot project that was undertaken by the Programme with the Government of Grenada using GRB tools and a manual to assess the national budget allocations dedicated to addressing VAWG across four (4) Ministries and Departments. Other development partners, such as the World Bank, were also undertaking activities in support of GRB in Grenada. The separate but complementary work by different partners contributed to this significant outcome which will be sustainable, and it is expected that the strengthening of the NGM and its network including the gender focal points, Gender Equality Commission and National Coordinating System on EVAWG through this Programme will contribute significantly to the effective application of GRB on Grenada.
