STRATEGIC NOTE OUTCOME PROGRESS NOTE

SHOWING DATA OF : 2022

An enabling legislative and policy environment in line with international standards on EVAW and other forms of discrimination is in place and translated into action

Result: There increased efforts to prioritise the engagement of critical stakeholders in VAW prevention and response. The government has included the Law of Marriage Act 1971 as the law to be reviewed to reduce teenage pregnancy. Teenage pregnancy is the root cause of girls leaving school and getting married, exacerbating sexual violence and coercion. Evidence: The government conducted quarterly consultative sessions to discuss the opportunities for reviewing the laws with stakeholders to justify strengthening gender-sensitive laws, policies and plans. UN Women's contribution: UN Women provided technical inputs into the consultative meetings and shared best practices of the current laws from other countries.
