STRATEGIC NOTE OUTCOME PROGRESS NOTE

SHOWING DATA OF : 2021

Favourable social norms, attitudes and behaviours are promoted at community and individual levels to prevent VAWG and promote SRHR

At national level, The Succession Amendment Bill (2019), the Employment Bill (2019), and the Sexual Offences Bill (2019), which cumulatively enhance the protection of women's rights were promulgated with support from UN Women. UN Women in partnership with the Civil Society Organizations (CSOs) conducted capacity building initiatives and supported lobbying and advocacy events that led to the passing of these Bills by the Parliament of Uganda. However, the Sexual Offences Bill 2019 was rejected by the president and sent back to parliament for review. UN Women and its partners will continue the pursuit of this law to ensure that its passed and assented to by the President. Voice and Agency of over 30 Civil society organizations that constitute the Domestic violence Coalition to advocate for the implementation of gender responsive laws and policies was strengthened through a series of capacity building activities that enabled members enhance their knowledge on gender-power analysis and how to effectively address backlash, women's bodily autonomy and rights. Government agencies exercised increased attention to VAWG cases and demonstrated it by adopting of proposals and actions of the DVA (Domestic Violence Act) coalition through creating a subcommittee and taskforce led by MoGLSD that now addresses VAW/VAC. UN Women supported the DVA coalition financially and technically Progressively the Coalition issued a Press call on government to address the escalating cases of domestic violence including teenage pregnancies that had escalated during the COVID-19 lockdown. With support from UN Women and other UN agencies UNFPA and UNICEF. The Ministry of Gender Labour and Social Development issued guidance and launched a campaign on how to curb teenage pregnancies while Ministry of Education and Sports provided guidance on how to prevent and manage teenage pregnancy in school settings. The school re-entry guidelines and the guidelines for implementation of the roles and responsibilities of senior women and senior men teachers in Uganda were finalized through support from UN Women. This has increased attention to VAWG especially cases of teenage pregnancies (defilement) which escalated during the lockdown and have enabled return of pregnant girls to school upon reopening of schools in 2022.
