Increased engagement of partners in support of UN-Women's mandate

In 2022, the UN team – through the SI program – provided an extensive support to the Parliamentary Council on Women and Children Rights and Gender Equality, which was established in March 2022 as a consultative advisory body under the Parliament of the Kyrgyz Republic. The Council aims to contribute to the improvement of the legislative base for the promotion of GEWE. This Council has replaced the previous Council on Protection from Gender-Based Violence set up under the previous parliamentary convocation. The key distinction is that the new Council provides a platform for civil society engagement. Alongside the support to build the organizational structure of the council, the UN team supports women members of parliament's efforts to conduct open consultations with key stakeholders such as survivors of gender-based violence, law enforcement, lawyers, the judiciary, healthcare personnel, and civil society organizations that work with survivors of gender-based violence, and national statistics offices, to collect views on the effectiveness of existing measures and specific areas of legislative weaknesses. In April-May 2022, the UN team (UNDP, UN Women, UNFPA, OHCHR, UNICEF) conducted a series of trainings to the members of parliament as an orientation training on parliamentarism, including a special session on the gender equality concept and principles in law making. In 2022, the UN support to the legal inventory process was continued (over 360 laws have been reviewed). Currently, the Council members initiated amendments to the following laws: "On safeguarding and protection from domestic violence", Criminal Code, Code on Criminal Procedure and Code of Contraventions, Labor Code (to introduce sexual harassment definition and provisions). In 2022, the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic, led by the Vice-chair of the cabinet, planned to continue an initiative on the launch of the 16 Days of Activism Against Gender-based Violence. Last year, on 25 November, the campaign was launched in the Batken province together with women from Batken and Working Group members of the CEDAW Delegation that presented the country's periodic report during the 80th CEDAW session in November 2021. In 2022, UN Women has introduced the Harmonized Approach to support the government partners in addressing key recommendations and concluding observations of Treaty Bodies on human rights and elimination of VAWG. This will help to streamline multi-sectoral efforts of the Government of the Kyrgyz Republic in the adoption of measures to strengthen services for survivors of violence during the global crisis, and the integration of special measures on prevention and response to VAWG into national plans. UN Team under the SI program have jointly progressed the work on EAWG, each working in its comparative area, but collectively contributing to changes, including on: GEWE policy making by support the adoption of the Gender Equality Strategy-2030 and its National Action Plan (led by UN Women); making inventory, analysis of bylaws following adoption of new CC, CPC, development of practical guide and presentation of the guide to the MIA Jointly with GPO, MIA with the focus on violence against children(UNICEF); extending support to Probation Department in piloting correctional programs for violence perpetrators in communities (UNODC); support in the establishment of Free Legal Aid Hotline, including consultations for SGBV survivors in line with the new SGLA law, and promotion of pro-bono culture among lawyers and other legal aid CSOs/associations through consultations, dialogue platforms and media outreach components, including Women's Access to Justice Research (UNDP); providing support to the Ministry of labor, social protection and migration to roll out training package to strengthen the quality and delivery of services for women and girls with disabilities (UNFPA).
