High quality of programs through knowledge, innovation, results-based management and evaluation

This output was achieved. In 2022, UN Women staff and partners further strengthened their knowledge and skills on operational procedures, results-based management as well as PSEA improving the quality of UN Women’s programs. A total of 66 staff from 31 partner organizations enhanced their knowledge and skills on UN Women’s operational procedures as well as monitoring and reporting. This was a result of various trainings that took place in 2022. Evaluation findings further are used to further improve the quality of UN Women’s programmes. UN Women conducted four evaluations in 2022 and is closely following up on the recommendations to ensure that consider these in future programming. Partners have increased protection measures in place to prevent and respond to issues of sexual and exploitation and abuse by aid workers. 44 staff from 21 partners currently implementing programmes in partnership with UN Women Lebanon strengthened their knowledge. This is a result of a training conducted by UN Women’s PSEA focal point. Improvements include that all partners have a designated PSEA focal points; 75% have a PSEA policy in place; 30% trained all staff on PSEA; 75% have PSEA posters in field-sites (corroborated by UN Women field visits) and 50% have strong complaint and feedback mechanisms for affected populations.
